

American Dynamics VideoEdge Micro

Johnson Controls launches a new VideoEdge Micro NVR into their wide range of NVRs & Hybrids

Micro Form Factor

The power of VideoEdge in a small form factor (W36.0cm x H4.4cm x D19.5cm); install where space is limited. Deploy in satellite locations for either local or central monitoring and control. With up to 12TB of storage, configure the system to easily meet the framerate and longevity of recording needs.

Embedded 8 port PoE Switch

Up to 120W for camera power, equates to 8 channels of PoE (802.3af) or 4 channels of PoE+ (802.3at), giving the flexibility to utilize the cameras needed to match the operational requirements of the customer.

Powerful hardware in a compact chassis

Double the throughput of the previous generation of VideoEdge micro, now up to 80Mbps. Capacity for analytics such as LPR and Video Intelligence. Transcoding is intrinsic for streaming and client decoding efficiency, supports up to 4 streams.

Single to multiple site deployments

Scalable from a single Micro NVR to a large, multi-site architecture, mix and match with the entire range of VideoEdge NVRs and Hybrids to create a bespoke installation, for example primary sites and small satellite sites. Built in intelligence allows users to receive multiple video streams for live, record, alarm, and meta-data collection, all tailored to viewing conditions.
